The job center AHA Kreis Soest created its own social intranet and now uses Hailo (formerly COYO). asioso created concepts for this and provided support in setting up the intranet.

Challenge

A new intranet was to be created for the Jobcenter AHA Kreis Soest, as there was previously no uniform system and the existing system no longer met the standards and had poor usability. The centralization of data was also a major issue.

Solution

The first step was to create a concept for the entire intranet with Haiilo (formerly COYO). Feedback discussions and workshops were used to find out what the customer had in mind in order to finally set up the intranet. Asioso also created the users and formulated a rights and roles concept. Pages for specific teams were also part of the intranet. As a result, the customer received a “ready-to-use intranet” with almost everything configured and set up.

"With the support of asioso, we have finally established a standardized system that structures our day-to-day work, makes it easier to find the information and documents we need and improves the exchange between colleagues - even across locations. We would like to thank asioso for the appreciative and professional cooperation and the valuable impetus in setting up our social intranet "DiPSi" (Digital Information Platform Social Intranet)." - Stefanie Wiengarten, Jobcenter AHA Kreis Soest
